Draft Act Extension Favored

Sent to Senate For Consideration With Various Pay Increase Plans

WASHINGTON, April 11.—(P)—The Senate Military committee recommended today a full year extension of the Draft Act.

At the same time the committee sent along four different service pay increase plans for Senate consideration.

Chairman Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) said the pay boost proposals represented a committee "compromise."

The draft extension bill was prepared by Senator Gurney (R-SD). It also included a pay increase provision.

Action came after a three-hour closed door session which began by a refusal to go along with the house military committee's recommendation of a nine-months extension of the draft beyond May 15.

One Major Change
Only one major change was made in the Gurney bill. This fixed the strength at 1,550,000 next July 1 and at 1,070,000 for the same date in 1947. It would require "consistent" monthly reduction between those levels. Senators estimated this would mean release of 40,000 men monthly.

The various pay increase proposals sent on to the senate included:

Gurney's plan for increasing the pay of enlisted men. Lowest grades would be boosted from the present $50 monthly to $65, with staggered increases giving top grades $140 compared with the present $138.

An identical pay increase plan by Senator Revercomb (R-WV) which would be offered as a separate measure.

A bill by Senator Maybank (D-SC) which would grant $50 additional monthly to all officers and men of the armed services while serving at sea or outside the United States.

A bill by Chairman Thomas which would provide a flat 20 per cent pay increase for all men and officers in the armed services. This was asked by both the war and navy departments.

Higher service pay also came up for consideration on the other side of the capitol. A house military subcommittee withdrew a previous recommendation for a flat $400 a year increase and voted a sliding scale of boosts starting with 50 per cent extra for privates.

The Gurney bill in the senate, in addition to fixing the army strength, also calls for a top strength of 558,000 for the navy and 108,000 for the Marines by July 1, 1947. Inductions in any month would be determined by the number of actual volunteers in the preceding month.

Stork Wins in Race to Calif.
KANSAS CITY, April 11.—(P)—A race with the stork from Sydney, Australia to California, Mo., ended today with the birth of a son to Mrs. Truman Allee, a war bride.

Mrs. Allee, whose husband is a sailor, was taken from a train this morning and admitted to General hospital. With her other son, 18-month-old Raymond, she left Australia last month for California the home of Allee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Allee.

The sailor father was not on hand. He had arranged to leave home to meet his wife, but delays en route slowed her down. He returned yesterday to the naval base at Norfolk, Va., his leave nearing an end.

Against Rigid Price Control

KANSAS CITY, April 11.—(P)—In a question and answer session last night before the Kansas City Purchasing Agents' Association, Judge John Caskie Collet, the nation's former economic stabilizer, said he could not agree with the theory of a rigid price line, "a control that must be held regardless of inequities and injustice."

He said he was "not much of a reformer" and described himself as against regimentation and planned economy.

He had found, he declared, that cabinet members and heads of large agencies were sound and constructive thinkers, but Washington "is sprinkled liberally with little groups of fanatics" who sometimes issue statements which do not accurately reflect the view of the top men.

Says Senators Outstayed Usefulness

WASHINGTON, April 11.—(P)—Rep. Arnold, Missouri Republican, completing his second term, says Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Murray (D-Mont.) have been in Congress too long.

His comment was made as he recalled an exchange of angry words between the two at a committee hearing on national health insurance.

He added that he thought Senator McKellar (R-Tenn.) also had been in Washington too long.

Informed of the Missouriian's remarks, McKellar, president pro tempore of the Senate, declared: "The Congressman from Missouri is so much wiser than I and has so much more knowledge of the affairs of Congress than anyone else, that I feel it unnecessary to comment upon his remarks."

Senator Taft had no comment and Murray was not immediately available.

Rep. Arnold is a Kirksville, Mo., lumber dealer.

Kiwanis Club Accepts Lions Challenge

Club Organizes Into Teams to Raise Fund for Factory

Answering a challenge of the Sedalia Lions Club to participate in a contest to raise $15,000 for the Chamber of Commerce Industrial Fund, the Sedalia Kiwanis Club Thursday noon upon motion of C. L. Hanley voted unanimously in favor of this civic activity.

The challenge also embraces the Rotary Club which will act upon it at their Monday meeting.

The money raised for the fund is to be used for building a plant for a prefabrication house manufacturing located in Sedalia.

Kiwanis will be organized into teams to compete for the Chamber of Commerce trophy. The winning club will be dinner guests of the two losing clubs.

United States To Give Poland Full Hearing

On Franco Regime As Haven of Nazi Scientists

By Larry Hauck

NEW YORK, April 11.—(P)—The United States will support a full hearing before the United Nations security council on Poland's indictment of the Franco regime in Spain as a haven of fugitive German scientists working on atomic age weapons, a spokesman indicated today.

The spokesman added that the United States reserved any decision on further moves until it had heard all the facts presented.

The British delegation was expected to join in this stand, with both taking the position that Generalissimo Franco was Spain's domestic problem but that they were willing to hear all the arguments in open session before voting on whether Spain constituted an actionable menace to peace, as charged in Poland's note to the security council.

Spain to Have Observers
As the world organization, scheduled to reconvene Monday, faced its second major test, representatives of the Spanish Republic government appeared here.

Fernando de los Rios, former foreign minister of the government in exile, just arrived from Paris, said he had made no formal contact with the United Nations, but that "probably one of the delegations friendly to the Spanish cause will get us into the meetings as Spanish observers."

Spain is not a member of the United Nations and the question immediately arose as to whether the council might call a representative of the Madrid government to the council as it did for Iran when that country's troubles with Russia were being discussed.

Benjamin Cohen, assistant secretary-general, said there was nothing in the charter to cover such a move and that it would be entirely up to the council, such a step would be complicated further by the fact that Poland and Mexico officially recognize the Republican government in Paris.

Awards for Civic Service
WASHINGTON, April 11.—(P)—Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Representative Monroney (D-Okla.) today were presented with the first annual Collier's awards for distinguished congressional service.

President Truman presented the awards, consisting of a silver plaque and $10,000 each, in a White House ceremony. The cash is to be turned over to a worthy public cause designated by the winners.

Owen D. Young, chairman of a national award jury, announced the winners just prior to the presentation.

Vandenberg was cited "for his ability to rise above partisan politics in welding together the senate in support of American participation in world affairs."

Monroney was designated for "fostering legislation intended to reform the organization and procedures of congress" and for his work in behalf of American participation in the Bretton Woods plan and the United Nations organization.

Omar D. Ford, Leeton Witness In Trial of German SS Troops

FRANKFURT, April 11.—(P)—Six survivors of the Malmédy massacre of nearly 100 American war prisoners returned today to sharpen their memories of the terrible event for testimony they will give at the trial of 75 German S.S. troops accused in the killings.

Grim, tight lipped, some tearful, they stood in the very field where the Nazis machinegunned helpless captives taken in the Battle of the Bulge.

It was only by luck that the six escaped—some by playing dead.

Stars and Stripes reported war crimes prosecutors as saying that the visit to Malmédy had filled in many valuable details of the massacre which will be unfolded when the trial opens at Dachau on May 2.

The paper identified the witnesses as Virgil P. Lary, former Lieutenant from Lexington, Ky.; Omar D. Ford, Leeton, Mo.; Samuel Dobyns, Sandusky, Ohio; Carl R. Daub, Colebrook, Pa.; Kenneth E. Kingstone, Allentown, Pa., and Kenneth F. Ahrens, Erie, Pa.

Three S. S. Generals are among the defendants who were to be served with indictments today. Six of the defendants were brought back from the United States, where they were prisoners of war.

Leonard Wood Training Camp

JEFFERSON CITY, April 11.—(P)—Designation of Fort Leonard Wood as a war department field training center for the new Missouri National Guard was announced yesterday by Brig. Gen. John A. Harris, adjutant general. Official word that the camp would be used by 11,576 ground force units of the Guard, followed by a few hours the news that Camp Clark, near Nevada, could also be retained by the Guard.

In the new set-up, General Harris said, Fort Leonard Wood would be used as the major training area, but the rifle range and other facilities at Camp Clark would be made available to Western Missouri Guard units for week-end training throughout the year.

Flight training centers for the proposed air arm of several fighter squadrons and a bomb squadron have not been designated.

Train for Military Government Posts

WASHINGTON, April 11.—(P)—The army announced today it will train 2,400 officers and civilians for military government posts during the next 18 months, indicating it expects the occupation of defeated Axis countries to last some time.

The group, destined for service in Europe and the Pacific, will be trained at a newly established school at Carlisle Barracks, Pa. The first class begins May 10.

Three Parties Running Close, Tokyo Reports

Communists Trail Behind in Japan's Postwar Election

By Russell Brines

TOKYO, April 11.—(P)—Three major parties tonight were running a close race for membership of Japan's 468-seat House of Representatives. Communists were trailing far behind. Nine women appeared certain of election.

Scattered nationwide results of yesterday's first postwar election gave the Social Democratic party 25 seats, the Progressives 24 and the Liberals 23. The Communists were certain of only three so far. At least six Independents and one People's Party candidate also were elected.

Results still are too incomplete to indicate the final makeup of the house. The Progressives failed to win a seat in Tokyo on the basis of early returns.

Premier Shidehara's cabinet sparkplug, chief secretary Wataru Marahashi, was elected from Fukushima prefecture on Kyushu.

Cabinet to Remain
Narahashi immediately announced the Shidehara cabinet would remain in office at least until convocation of the next special diet session, probably on May 10. The press quoted Narahashi as saying he planned creation of a new political party, probably a coalition, with Shidehara as its head.

Kyuichi Tokuda, the secretary-general of the Communist party, who led a 14-man committee into Shidehara's office Monday to demand the premier's immediate resignation, was one of the Communists definitely elected. Another was party leader Sanni Nosaka, who recently returned from exile in Yanan and was one of the most personally popular of all candidates in Tokyo.

The close race led to immediate speculation that a tri-party coalition would organize the next cabinet.

72 Per Cent Vote
Early returns indicated a 72 per cent national vote.

Among the Social Democrats elected was Tetsu Katayama, the party's secretary-general.

Another member of Premier Shidehara's cabinet and one leader of the Liberal and Progressive parties were among those definitely elected.

Ichiro Hatoyama, president of the Liberal party who recently was criticized for his 1938 book applauding Hitler and Mussolini, lead Tokyo's first district.

Welfare Minister Hitoshi Ashida, of the Liberal party, was assured of election from Kyoto prefecture. Takao Saito, a veteran firebrand in the house and a Progressive leader, was reelected from Kobe.

Woman Leads
The first two candidates assured of victory were Mrs. Satoko Togano, 38, of the People's party and 87-year-old Yukio Ozaki. Mrs. Togano's husband had been ousted from the diet by General MacArthur's political purge. Ozaki, who had served in every Japanese parliament in modern times, recently permitted himself to be quoted as favoring the Communist sponsored Democratic Front, but ran as an Independent.

Mrs. Shizue Kato, formerly the Baroness Ishimoto, a well known prewar birth control advocate, led Tokyo's second district. She ran on the Social Democratic ticket.

Earthquakes Are Recorded

WESTON, Mass., April 11.—(P)—A very strong earthquake, probably in Rumania, which seismologists said was as severe as the one that caused the recent tidal wave off Alaska, was recorded at Weston college at 9:03:25 p. m. (EST) yesterday, the Rev. Daniel Linehan, S. J., reported.

Father Linehan said a second phase of the shock was recorded at 9:12:27 p. m. and that the disturbance was about 4,745 miles from Boston, probably in Rumania. It lasted about three hours.

In New York City the Rev. Joseph Lynch, Fordham University seismologist, said two "quite severe" earthquakes were recorded here at 9:03:36 and 9:12:45 p. m. (EST) yesterday.

He said the shocks were about 4,750 miles from New York, but the direction was not determinable.

Trucker Reports Robbery
JOPLIN, Mo., April 11.—(P)—Police today were investigating a report by J. A. Stafford, a trucker, that two men robbed him of approximately $4,600 in cash as he stepped from his truck in front of his home last night. No arrests had been made today.

Afraid She Would Not Recognize Husband in America

SYDNEY, Australia, April 11.—(P)—An unidentified Australian war bride told United States army officials today she had known her husband only a week when she married him three years ago and did not believe she would be able to recognize him in America.

She was one of 18 wives of American servicemen who cancelled passage to the United States. Some were ill; others were "afraid" to leave Australia.

SAAF on List Of Stations to Be Permanent

Rumors to Contrary Are Unfounded, Colonel States

Rumors, which have been circulating regarding the Sedalia Army Air Field, like others, are unfounded according to a statement by Col. Julius A. Kolb, the commanding officer of the SAAF.

The fact that a large number of the army personnel at the local base are being transferred to other stations for training purposes started such rumors.

Col. Kolb to quiet all rumors which gain footing with the announcement of transfers made the following statement:

"Recent changes in organizations and missions have been the basis upon which numerous rumors have gained footing.

"The mission previously assigned this base and units stationed hereon has been completed and the mission assigned to another Troop Carrier Base, Bergstrom Field, Texas, now has a high priority. In order to meet the requirements of their mission it became necessary to increase their personnel strength by transferring those with certain qualifications from other Troop Carrier bases into Bergstrom Field.

Will Build Up Again
"In doing this it will reduce the strength in military personnel at this base to such an extent as to make it necessary to place the base and units hereon in a non-operational status until such time as sufficient personnel becomes available to build up again to operational status.

"The primary mission remains: 'Demobilization and Recruitment' along with making the best use of what we have, towards training 'on-the-job' and maintaining the capability of rapid expansion back to full operational status.

"Sedalia Army Air Field is on the list of stations which are to be permanent in the present AAF post-war planning program which like all post-war plans, are subject to congressional approval.

"Contrary to current rumors, there is no movement afoot to close the base."

To Assist Air Defense
Word has been received recently from headquarters, Third Air Force (Troop Carrier) of missions and changes in organization of all bases and units under its jurisdiction.

As before, the primary mission of all bases is demobilization and recruitment. In addition it is the function of all bases and units to assist in the air defense of the United States; participation in the joint air-ground training and field exercises with the army ground forces and the navy; activation, training and development of various experimental units as may be directed and the maintenance of the capability of rapid expansion and of training combat crews in time of national emergency.

Of necessity definite changes of personnel are expected in order to meet the requirements of secondary missions of the Third Air Force (Troop Carrier) bases and units. As of May 1, Sedalia Army Air Field will be on a non-operational status. It will have no other mission other than minimum administration and maintenance. Personnel will consist of the minimum necessary to operate the base unit and will be civilian in so far as possible.

The 439th TC group and the 455th Air Service group will also be non-operational and all surplus personnel will be transferred to Bergstrom Field.

Veterans Meeting Rooms Redecorated

Promises Will Be Fulfilled

Commitments of Food to Foreign Areas Will Be Met; No Bread Ration Yet

WASHINGTON, April 11.—(P)—The government held off today its decision whether more drastic steps are needed at home to tide famine areas abroad over the present critical shortage of bread.

Although the domestic conservation program launched a month ago today has failed to achieve the savings sought and exports to hungry areas have fallen behind promises, officials continue to insist that foreign commitments will be met.

In the face of an agriculture department report which raised doubts whether enough wheat remains to meet both export needs and domestic levels, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson told a news conference last night that this country will fulfill its promises.

But he said the nation will have to observe fully all phases of the wheat conservation program. And he added it might be necessary to force a 25 per cent cut in domestic use of flour between now and June 30, when the new winter wheat crop starts moving to market in volume.

The British cabinet offered yesterday to ration bread in Great Britain if the United States would do the same.

Rationing Not Feasible
But Anderson made plain that consumer rationing of either bread or flour during the present emergency is out of the question because, he said, rationing machinery could not be set up in time to help.

He emphasized, however, that he did not mean to imply that rationing might not be necessary later. He explained that the future possibility of rationing of bread, meats and other foods depends on this year's food production.

Similarly, Anderson's view that this country will meet its promises abroad assumes that the government will be able to pull to market the bulk of the remaining small stocks of wheat on farms. Officials have reported that many farmers are holding on to their grain in the hope of higher prices.

Lending greater encouragement to the cabinet officer, however, was the department's crop report predicting that this year's winter wheat crop will be a record one.

To help meet export needs, it may be possible, Anderson said, to get some of this year's wheat moving overseas as early as the first of June, provided harvests are fairly early in Texas and Oklahoma and the wheat is speeded to ports.

He indicated, too, that it may be possible to substitute oats in some cases for wheat in export shipments. Oat stocks are of record proportions.

Greater Conservation
Government plans call for greater emphasis on the wheat conservation program started a month ago and upon other measures designed to curb use of wheat in non-food uses.

The conservation program, which was outlined by President Truman's famine emergency committee, called upon Americans to eat 40 per cent less wheat products during the present emergency.

Other measures to be pressed more vigorously, Anderson said, include orders limiting use of wheat in livestock feed, prohibiting the use of wheat in making beer and whiskey, a higher wheat flour extraction rate, and limits on inventories of millers and feed mixers designed to prevent hoarding of wheat.

Present FDR Estate Friday

HYDE PARK, N. Y., April 11.—(P)—Franklin D. Roosevelt's home and grave site will be dedicated by President Truman as a national shrine tomorrow in ceremonies commemorating the first anniversary of the late president's death.

President Truman's speaking platform will be the same white-pillared, stone porch from which the late president greeted torchlight processions of Hyde Park neighbors in victorious election nights.

Mrs. Roosevelt formally will present the estate to Secretary of the Interior J. A. King.

The ceremonies will be broadcast over three national networks (NBC, CBS, ABC) from 1:30 to 2 p. m. (CST).

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, April 11—There is an excellent reason why Secretary of State James Byrnes has been urging the Russians to sit down with him soon at the long-delayed peace conference. There is also a significant background reason why the Russians up until this week had been hanging back.

Both reasons revolve around the same dynamite-laden situation—Trieste. Each side, however, views it from a different angle.

The Russians wanted to delay the peace conference until Marshal Tito could get his troops into this controversial city. If he could get his troops inside, the Russian-Yugoslav bloc could present the peace conference with an accomplished fact and dare the diplomats to give Trieste to someone else.

Secretary Byrnes, on the other hand, wanted to confer with the foreign ministers this month, not only because the peace conference already was too long delayed but because American troops in Trieste are already at the brink of open warfare with a former ally. And the longer they sit there, the more dangerous the situation becomes.

Troops Ordered to Fire

Several developments in the past few days have made Trieste even more explosive. They are:

1. Tito has forbidden American and British airplanes to fly over Yugoslav territory on reconnaissance flights. He has given his men orders to shoot such planes on sight.

2. Twenty thousand Russian troops have left Hungary and crossed the border into Yugoslavia. U. S. observers know this from the reconnaissance flights which Tito has now banned. Probably that's the reason he banned them—to prevent further knowledge of Russian troop movements.

3. U. S. troops in Trieste have been given orders to fire if the Yugoslavs enter the city.

4. The Italian government has offered to place 15 divisions at the disposal of the Americans and British. However, they lack heavy arms and would have to be given new equipment. The United States has declined this offer.

In brief, Trieste has all the potentialities of war. Some diplomatic observers think this is what the Russians want—armed conflict between the United States and Yugoslavia. Obviously the Russians don't want to bear the brunt of this conflict or initiate it. However, if a puppet state like Tito, who has a reputation for irresponsible braggadocio, can be the front man, the Russians might be delighted.

Two weeks ago, Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin sent two members of parliament to northern Iran to investigate the Red army of occupation. They are still sitting in Tabriz waiting for travel permits. The Russian commander won't let them through.

Wallace Murray, American ambassador to Iran, is quite ill. . . . Parting advice which Randolph Churchill gave to Americans before he sailed from New York was: "Abolish the OPA." Some people are wondering if young Churchill wasn't satisfied with the trouble his father caused when he tried to advise the American people. However, like father, like son. . . . The Heart To Find

by Hazel Heidergott
Copyright Macroe-Smith-Co.
Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

IT took three days to complete Susie's wardrobe, and get her hair licked into shape with an expensive haircut and permanent wave. Ann regarded the finished product proudly. Susie still wasn't pretty—nothing on earth could give beauty to Susie's impish features—but she had personality, which was infinitely better. And there was something very pleasing about the child, with a smart hairdress and good-looking clothes. "You'll do us credit, Susie," she informed her warmly.

Now after parking the car in the driveway, they made several trips to the house, taking all the packages into Susie's room. Then Ann left her to her unpacking, and murmured something about going for a walk. She exchanged her coat for a suede jacket, and the sun warm on her bare head started up the road toward the Home. There was a big orchard behind the house, where Ann loved to go to think. She wanted to do some heavy thinking, and luxuriate in a new idea. She wanted to see Colin and share it, but as he wasn't in evidence, that would have to wait.

The orchard was deserted, as she had hoped, and she walked to the far end and flung herself down in the soft grass, basking in the sunlight. Beside her there was a comfortable hammock, slung between two trees, but Ann wanted to get close to earth. Presently Lord Peter came and frisked around her head, wanting to play. "Be still, imp," she ordered. "I'm not in the mood." He curled up beside her, and yawned widely. Ann yawned, too. "Oh, Peter, darling, I'm so happy," she confided to him. He opened one eye, looked at her briefly, then went back to sleep. "Not interested, huh? Well, I am!" she declared.

Ann didn't realize that her privacy had been invaded until the ledge of Russian troop movements.

Washington and attended a luncheon given by the senate and house foreign affairs committee for U. N. officials. Senator Joe Guffey of Pennsylvania, arriving late, sat down next to Sobolev, without recognizing who he was.

Wanting to be sociable, Guffey turned to Sobolev, asked: "Well, tell me how's everything in the house?" Sobolev caught on immediately, knew Guffey had mistaken him for a member of the house of representatives. "I think things are all right," replied Sobolev. "What do you think?"

The senator from Pennsylvania then launched on a long discourse on the lower chamber, following which Sobolev gleefully confessed his identity.

NOTE—Later, Sobolev reported to a friend: "Guffey was sure I wasn't a member of the senate because I'm not fat enough."

GI Clothes in Alaska
The Doolittle "caste system" board really got an earful when it listened to the testimony of ex-Pvt. Malcolm C. Douglas, who once served with the Byrd expedition to the Antarctic and later with the air forces in Alaska.

Douglas assailed the custom of AAF officers using "flight time" and "instrument checking" as excuses for flying fellow officers on dates; also criticized inequities in the type of clothes issued officers and enlisted men in Alaska.

Enlisted men stationed at Ladd Field, near Fairbanks in Alaska, were not permitted to wear the heavy Arctic clothes and furs issued to officers, Douglas said, "because the powers that be were afraid some visiting general might mistake us for officers." As a result, he added, a number of GIs became ill from the intense Alaskan cold.

"It did us no good to gripe," Douglas testified, "because all our mail from Alaska was heavily censored."

General Doolittle said he was aware of the problem, but that efforts were under way to correct it by standardizing officers' and enlisted men's clothing and making it possible for enlisted men to voice their complaints to traveling inspectors general without going through the usual chain of command.

"I think I know what you were up against in Alaska," remarked Doolittle. "I once drove a dog team at Nome."

Merry-Go-Round
President Truman is still shopping around for a new under secretary of the navy, wants a man who will support Army-Navy unification 100 per cent. Paul Porter may be the man. . . . Robert R. Brown, the American consul in Tabriz, still reports no evacuation of Soviet troops from Iran.

He's the consul the Russians put in jail several weeks ago. . . . Despite Henry Morgenthau's charge that Lew Douglas's appointment to the international bank would turn the new world newcomer was almost upon her. Then she sat up, and smoothed her disheveled hair instinctively, for this was such a very neat lady. She decided to forget her resentment at being intruded upon, and be friendly. "Hullo," she said. "You're new in town, aren't you? I'm Ann Drake—Mrs. Colin Drake."

She eyed her appraisingly. She was a rather lovely lady—authentic silver hair, beautifully arranged, small, clearly chiseled features, milk-and-rose skin, and large bright blue eyes. "The simple arrogance with which one says that in Port Drake! I know, my dear, from experience. I'm Millicent Roberts."

MILlicent was looking at Ann in frank appraisal. "You're not at all what I expected, Ann. You don't mind my calling you Ann, do you? I actually can't call you Mrs. Drake! I'd expected you to be—forgive me—a rather giddy girl, that Colin should have adopted rather than married."

Ann grimaced. "You must have been talking to dear Beulah. Oh, I'm sorry—I'd forgotten she is your friend—and we really aren't on first name terms with each other."

Millicent smiled. "You will be." Ann looked skeptical. "Either you're misjudging me, or I don't know Mrs. Bedelle."

"You will be—if you're willing. Beulah is a good friend, but a very nasty enemy, and it will pay you to cultivate her."

"I don't 'cultivate' people!" Ann exploded. "If they don't like me, they needn't!"

"My dear child, take my advice. When you married the leading citizen of a small town, you incurred certain obligations, along with your rights and privileges. You can learn that the hard way if you really want to, but I'd advise against it."

"Everyone else likes me all right," Ann said rebelliously.

financial organization over to Wall street, Secretary Vinson is still urging Douglas's nomination.

Australia's Evatt Telephones
The strident, irrepressible voice of Australia's external affairs minister Herbert Evatt has been absent from the United Nations security council meeting. But, behind the scenes, his indirect presence is definitely felt. Every evening, Evatt talks by trans-Pacific telephone to the Australian delegate, Col. W. R. Hodgson. The two have achieved perfect teamwork, and many of the Australian moves in the Iranian crisis were hatched in advance over the telephone.

In fact the Australian telephone bill at the end of the conference may look like the national debt, because some trans-Pacific talks lasted an hour.

Ann took it, feeling unaccountably embarrassed. "I'd like to be," she said.

Millicent sat down in the hammock, and took off her hat. Ann took a packet of cigarettes out of her pocket, and proffered it. As Millicent took one, she smiled a little. "We'll sit down and smoke the pipe of peace," she murmured.

AS Ann lit her own cigaret, she wondered a little what one talked about to one's husband's first wife. But she needn't have worried, as Millicent had no intention of letting the conversation get out of the direction of her own capable tongue. She made no explanation of what she was doing in Port Drake, but talked lightly and casually of various topics of general interest that occurred to her. When she finally dropped her verbal bombshell, it was so long exploding that it was quite a while before Ann recognized it for what it was.

"How do you like Colin's last book?"

"I always like Colin's books," Ann dodged the question neatly. "Well, you needn't be so nonchalant about it! Personally, I think it is the first bit of fiction that he's written that's been worth a hoot. Colin isn't a fiction writer, you know—he's a reporter, or an essayist. A biographer—or an historian, if you like. His novels have been pretty bad. No one on earth could believe for a minute in his heroines. They give you the impression that Colin never knew any girls. But Julie—ah, Julie—"

She continued to talk, but Ann didn't hear her. Julie! Julie was the heroine of Colin's new book—the one that wasn't out yet. The one that Colin wouldn't show her. The brief little book that Colin had thought the best thing he'd ever done. Colin had refused to show it to her, and here was Millicent, talking of it nonchalantly, naturally believing Ann knew it as well as she did.

WASHINGTON, April 11—(AP)—The agriculture department reported Tuesday a winter wheat crop of 830,636,000 bushels is indicated on the basis of conditions prevailing April 1.

This estimate compared with last year's bumper winter wheat crop of 823,117,000 bushels and with a 1935-44 average of 618,019,000 bushels. No estimate of the spring wheat was given at this time, inasmuch as it has not all been seeded.

Stocks of wheat from previous crops, remaining on farms on April 1 were reported at 203,991,000 bushels. This amount represented 18.2 percent of the record 1945 crop.

Wheat stock on farms on January 1 this year totalled 368,820,000 bushels. A year ago there were 238,386,000 bushels, or 46 percent of the 1944 crop. Farm stocks for the ten-year period averaged 173,320,000 bushels or 21.2 percent of the crops.

The government must pull 125,000,000 bushels from the April 1 stocks by June 30 if it is to fulfill export commitments to famine-stricken areas abroad.

The department reported that the condition of rye on April 1 was 88 per cent of normal, compared with 91 per cent a year ago and with 76 per cent for the ten-year average.

The indicated yield of winter wheat per acre was indicated at 16.0 bushels, compared with 17.4 last year and with 12.6 for the ten-year average.

The condition of pastures on April 1 was reported at 88 per cent of normal compared with 91 a year ago and with 75 for the ten-year average.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, April 11—(P)—

Jimmy Crowley, all America football conference commissioner, is warning his athletes that fabulous offers from the National league have a sting attached in a 48-hour cancellation clause. . . . And National league point out that the A. A. C., originally organized "to give the players a break" will be faced with the problem of cutting down squads of 50 or more men per team to conform with player limits soon after the season starts. . . . The all America already is trying to start some new minor leagues to take care of the overflow, since the other league already has the existing minors tied up. . . . From this angle, it seems that as many athletes will get caught in the middle in this scrap as will be profiting by higher wages. . . . One sure thing is that if the leagues ever agree, the players will be the ones who suffer.

One-Minute Sports Page

Is there anything in the story that Ben Carnevale, who brought the North Carolina basketball team to the NCAA finals this spring, has been chosen to coach the navy team? . . . Instead of just one troupe of old-timers holding clinics for high school baseball coaches, the major leagues plan to send out several groups this summer. . . . Lery Zimmerman of the Philly Eagles says he may not be the No. 1 back in pro football but he's the first to own a jeep. If they will let him take it on the field next fall maybe he can pick up a few extra yards. . . . If he shows the same improvement as his daddy, Fighting Fox, did as a three-year-old, look for Fighting Frank to be very much in the Kentucky Derby. He wasn't bad last year with three wins in seven starts.

Unanswered Questions

Wonder if baseball commissioner Happy Chandler let something slip when he finally commented on the Mexican league "jumpers" after wisely keeping silent for a long time. . . . Happy said: "In any controversy involving our players, we will be on their side. After all they are coming back at our call." . . . The last seven words don't fit in very well with the Browns' and Bums' protestations that they did not lift a finger to get Vern Stephens and Mickey Owen back.

MONTGOMERY WARD

Wanted, Good Achievement Men For the 'Hot Corner'

By Most of the Major League Baseball Managers

By Joe Reichler

NEW YORK, April 11—(P)—Major league baseball managers are crying for third basemen this year in the same way they used to bemoan the lack of good shortstops and second basemen.

With the opening of the 1946 season five days away only Cleveland's Lou Boudreau, the New York Yankees' Joe McCarthy and the St. Louis Cardinals' Eddie Dyer of the 16 big league pilots seem to have solved their "hot corner" problem and even they are not sitting too pretty.

In Ken Keltner Cleveland owns one of the best third sackers in the American league, but the recently discharged sailor was late in signing and hasn't trimmed down to his best playing weight. Currently Boudreau has been using Bob Lemon and Don Ross at the far corner.

Kurovski Ends Holdout

Whitely Kurovski, hard hitting Cardinal third baseman, ended a long holdout siege last Saturday. He is expected to be on the bench when the season opens with Al (Red) Schoendienst, an outfielder last year, at third.

George Sturweiss, best second baseman in the American league last year will be the regular Yankee third baseman this season but an injury to second sacker Joe Gordon last month may send Stirny back at his old post next Tuesday.

Even Steve O'Neill and Charlie Grimm, the 1945 pennant winning managers, are not certain of their opening day third basemen. O'Neill has been experimenting with Jimmy Outlaw, last year's part time Detroit third baseman, Billy Hitchcock and Pinky Higgins. It looks like he will start the Tiger season with the 37-year old Higgins who was beginning to show the effects of a dozen years of big league play even before he entered the service two years ago.

Grimm has been worried over the slowness of veteran Stan Hack in rounding into form. The 35-year-old Californian has needed assistance in almost every game from youthful Johnny Ostrowski and his hitting has been practically nil this spring.

Dodgers and Giants in Trouble

Injuries have been responsible for the unsettled third base condition of Brooklyn and the New York Giants. In Brooklyn, Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto, back after four years in the navy, was counted on to pick up where he left off at the far corner, but an injured hand has written him off for at least another month. Billy Herman and Pete Reiser were injured while attempting to fill in for Lavagetto and now Lew Riggs 10-year man in the majors, is trying his hand there.

Manager Mel Ott finally has decided on Buddy Kerr after giving Nick Witek, Dick Bartell and Jaime Almendro a crack at third. Witek is sidelined by a spit hand. In Philadelphia George Kell, a late reportee and Pete Suder, 1943 regular, are battling for the Athletics post while Jim Tabor, purchased from the Boston Red Sox, has the inside track in the Phillies camp.

Braves Have Candidates

Billy Southworth of the Boston Braves has three candidates. Sibbi Sisti, a good fielder but poor hitter; Froilan Fernandez, a good hitter and poor fielder and Bob Detweiler, a promising rookie with no experience, for the regular third base job. Joe Cronin of the Red Sox is equally undecided. With two would-be regulars, Jack Tobin and Ty LaForest, already disposed of to the minors, the eligibles have narrowed down to Ernie Andres and Eddie Pelligrini, both without big league backgrounds.

Bill McKechnie of Cincinnati plans to start the season with Grady Hatten, a former serviceman star who has never played in organized ball, but who has impressed observers with his spring play. Jeep Handley and Vic Barnhart have been alternating at third for the Pirates while Bob Kennedy, a 231 hitter before joining the army, appears to have won the berth for the Chicago White Sox.

Washington, which hasn't had a good third baseman since Manager Ossie Bluege held forth there, offers George Myatt, last year's regular second baseman and Sherry Robertson, returned serviceman. The St. Louis Browns experimenting with Rookie Bobby Dilling, has shifted back to Mark Christman, now that shortstop Vern Stephens has returned from the Mexican league.

This year the creative assembly of the Smith-Cotton senior high school has been changed to achievement assembly, since all the work submitted from various departments, although representing excellent effort and achievement, can not be entirely creative.

The awards, given by the Smith-Cotton Parent-Teachers Association will be $1.00 for first and 50c for second. Most of the winning work will be displayed on April 23 at open house.

The winners are as follows:
English: Bettye Ellsworth, first; Dorothy Ann Garrett, second; Betty Wisdom, honorable mention.

LOCOMOTIVE-ON-TOAST
WON'T GIVE YOUR SYSTEM
EXTRA IRON!

In the first place, you can't eat solid iron. But even if you could, your system couldn't assimilate sufficient quantities.
But iron (iron ammonium citrate) as supplied by Pursin, is easily assimilated, causing a rapid blood response in iron-deficient anemias of nutritional origin. It is almost universally accepted today that iron, taken orally and in sufficient quantities, is absorbed, assimilated, and converted into hemoglobin, an important part of the red blood corpuscles.

Pursin is also a supplementary source of Vitamin B1 and B2. One tablespoonful three times a day furnishes for adults and children 12 years or more the full minimum daily requirement of Vitamin B1,
and one-quarter the full minimum daily requirement of Vitamin B2.

If satisfactory results are not apparent after using three bottles of Pursin, your money will be refunded—Consult your physician.

Try ALL-BRAN Apple Spice Muffins!

(No sugar, no shortening, but lots of praise!)

It's hard to believe such luscious muffins are sugarless and shortening-less—but they are! They owe their wonderful flavor to a combination of ginger, cinnamon, molasses and the tasty, nut-sweet goodness of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. And they owe their tender texture to the fact that ALL-BRAN is milled extra-fine for golden softness.

2 cups Kellogg's ALL-BRAN
1 cup molasses
1 egg, beaten
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
3/4 teaspoon ginger
15 slices raw apple
or other fruit
cinnamon-and-sugar mixture

Add ALL-BRAN to molasses and milk and allow to soak for 15 minutes. Add egg. Sift flour, soda, salt and spices together and combine with ALL-BRAN mixture. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Dip apple slices in cinnamon-sugar mixture and place on top. Bake in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 20 minutes. Makes 15 muffins.

Good Nutrition, too!
ALL-BRAN is made from the VITAL OUTER LAYERS of finest wheat—contains a concentration of the protective food elements found in the whole grain. One-half cup provides over 1/2 your daily minimum need for iron. Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily!

(1) "ROCKET CRUISE TO THE MOON" . . . "SPEND YOUR VACATION ON MARS" . . . Some day there may be advertisements like those. For radar researchers now are sure to turn their attention to interplanetary rocket flight. No doubt the first attempt will be an effort to reach the moon. As soon as radar contact was made with the moon from Belmar, N. J., on January 10, 1946, rocket enthusiasts began to discuss the possibility of sending a rocket to the moon. Such a rocket would have to leave the earth with a speed greater than 11 miles a second to escape the earth's gravitational pull. Perhaps it will use atomic power.

(2) The flight of such a rocket would be controlled by radar while astronomers follow its path on the oscillograph tube of the radar equipment. Obviously it would not be possible to see the rocket in a telescope. Space is full of meteors which do not reflect enough sunlight to be visible. Obviously, also, no one would travel in that first rocket for many reasons, including the danger of collision with one of these meteors. Whether passengers might eventually ride in a rocket would depend upon the result of many trials.

(3) It might be decided to let the first rocket crash into the moon. Since this would destroy the rocket, the decision might also be made to load the rocket with phosphorus bombs which would give off a tremendous flash of light at the moment of impact. Such a flash would light up the mountains and craters of the region where the rocket landed and we can imagine astronomers at their big telescopes waiting for this flash of light. Perhaps it would yield new facts about the moon.

(4) At the world's largest observatories—the Mt. Palomar Observatory with its 200-inch telescope, and Mt. Wilson with its 100-inch telescope—the explosion of the rocket would be photographed. It must be remembered that such telescopes give a view of the moon equivalent to what would be obtained with the unaided eye if the moon were less than 50 miles away. The long shadows cast by the bomb explosion would light up mountain peaks and craters from new angles and perhaps give astronomers information of the utmost value about their structure.

Field Training
At Fort Wood

Ground Troops
Of National Guard
To Use Area

By Morrie Landsberg
Subbing for Hal Boyle

JEFFERSON CITY, April 11.—(P)—Fort Leonard Wood has been designated a war department field training camp where 11,576 ground troops of the new Missouri National Guard will be trained, Brig. Gen. John A. Harris, Missouri adjutant general, announced Tuesday.

Harris got official word of the decision to use the Fort in a telegram from Maj. Gen. Butler B. Miltonberger, chief of the National Guard bureau.

"That area has everything for training purposes," Harris said, "with barracks, permanent warehouses and adequate facilities for taking care of any number of National Guard troops from Missouri or surrounding states."

He said the varied terrain of the Leonard Wood reservation would be suitable for all types of ground training, including artillery. The guard's proposed air arm with an expected personnel of 1,522—several fighter squadrons and a bomber squadron—will not be trained at the Fort, Harris said. Flight training centers have not been designated.

Added Facility

Advised of a Washington announcement by Rep. Bennett (R-Mo) that 640 acres of Camp Clark, near Nevada, Mo., could be retained by the guard for an additional training area, Harris commented "that's good news to us."

Fort Leonard Wood will be used as the major training area, he said, but the rifle range and other facilities at Camp Clark will be made available to western Missouri guard units for weekend maneuvers throughout the year.

Altogether, the tentative allotment of guard troops for Missouri is 13,098 men but Harris said negotiations are underway to raise the authorization to full division strength—around 15,000. Current plans call for reactivation of the National Guard to start about July 1, extending over a two-year period.

As part of the reorganization program, the adjutant general announced appointment of a ten-man advisory board representing old guard units which went into active service in 1940 and 1941.

On the board, which will hold its first meeting late this month, are:

Maj. Gen. Ralph E. Truman, Kansas City, former commander of the 35th division; Maj. Gen. E. M. Stayton, Independence, former commander of the Missouri National Guard and of the 35th division; Col. Jesse F. Brown, Kansas City; Col. Winston W. Kratz, St. Louis; Lt. Col. Frank B. Horton, St. Louis; Col. A. D. Sheppard, Doniphan; Col. Elmer A. Strom, Cape Girardeau; Col. John C. McLaughlin, Sedalia; Col. C. H. Englebrecht, Jefferson City; Col. Rex V. McPherson, Aurora.

Mrs. Harry Walch To Research Hospital

Mrs. Harry W. Walch, 711 West Broadway, Wednesday entered Research hospital in Kansas City where she will undergo an operation next week. She was accompanied there by her husband and by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Thomas F. Walch, 501 Dal-Whi-Mo court, and the latter will remain there with her.

Korea, Not a Battleground,
Yet Has Suffered From War

By Morrie Landsberg
Subbing for Hal Boyle

SEOUL, April 11.—(P)—Korea's economic plight probably is unique among war dislocated countries of the Far East.

Not a battleground itself, this little nation nevertheless has suffered. Few Koreans are sorry that Japan's surrender overturned their economy. But the U. S.-Russian occupation that came with it has proved a definite hardship.

Korea wants to buy from abroad, but has no way of paying. Japanese decrees impoverished the silk industry, which otherwise might have shipped raw silk to the United States to establish a basis for foreign exchange.

American-occupied southern Korea grows rice chiefly and nobody is talking about exporting that commodity when there isn't enough to feed all of the people at home.

Factories Cut Off

Factories in both the American and Russian-occupied zones are cut off by the rigid boundary of the 38th parallel. The south may have raw materials that the industrial north could use but free communication is not permitted. Korea actually is two countries which have not recognized each other.

There is no immediate relief in sight, although the American-Russian commission, now in session here, might lift the blockade any time.

American military government attempts to increase production are hampered by the boundary line and a shortage of supplies. So far, only a minor quantity of goods has come in from the United States.

Army authorities recently announced plans to import commodities from the United States, but the quantity and method of payment have not been announced. Meanwhile, Korea has a problem at home—inflation.

Prices High

Prices of many commodities are more than 100 times what they were in 1937. Koreans complain that they are going up every day. The military government says it is doing everything it can to stabilize them.

In an analysis of the economic situation, Dr. Allen Loren, economic adviser to the military governor, attributed inflation not only to the huge increase in currency but to a scarcity of goods and a number of subsidiary factors.

"At the time of Korea's liberation, there was fear and uncertainty among the Japanese in Korea," he said. "Japanese companies paid huge bonuses to their officers and many officials withdrew company funds for their own use."

Withdrew Bank Deposits

He said the people imagined the banks would be closed and withdrew their deposits. Bank of Chosen (Korea) notes in circulation doubled from the end of July, 1945, to Oct. 1. The people didn't hesitate to spend and prices skyrocketed.

To add to the situation, Americans, shortly after their arrival, declared an open market, disregarding all former price controls. Military officers now concede that this was a mistake which they still are trying to correct by such measures as fixed prices on the basic commodity, rice.

The daily rice ration has been doubled. That forced a slump in black market prices from 450 yen ($30) to 180 yen ($12) for nine quarts, says a report of Maj. Carol V. Hill, Pittsburgh, Pa., national food administrator for the military government.

ST. LOUIS, April 11.—(P)—The late Cardinal Glennon, Archbishop of the St. Louis diocese for 42 years, left a personal estate valued at only $325, an inventory filed in probate court disclosed yesterday.

Associates of the Cardinal recalled that he donated to some charity or church organization nearly every check he received. They estimated that he had given away more than $500,000 during the time he was archbishop.

Cardinal Glennon died March 9 at Dublin, Ireland, two weeks after he was elevated to the Cardinalate at the age of 83.

Smith-Cotton
Senior Class
Play Friday

The senior class of Smith-Cotton high school will present "The Fighting Littles" Friday evening, May 12, at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. This is the annual senior play and is one of the last organized activities of the seniors prior to their graduation.

The "Fighting Littles" is adapted from the novel of the same name by Booth Tarkington and is the story of the trials of the eccentric Little family who just can't seem to agree on anything until an especially trying chain of events brings about their momentary reconciliation.

The play is a study of an interesting and humorous people whose counterparts could hardly be found in actual life. They are purely the creation of Booth Tarkington's imagination which created such famous characters as Penrod and Sam and many others beloved by Americans of all ages.

The Seniors in the cast are:

Almatina—Alberta Carver
Olita—Rosalee Marshall
Filmer—Joe Newland
Ham Ellers—Harrell Swift
Mr. Little—Richard Pryor
Goody—Marilyn Williams
Mrs. Little—Virginia Berry
Antoinette—Pauline Milburn
Cuckoo—Mary Louise Chesser
Screwball—Marilyn Morris
Henriette—Almeda Albertson
Norman Peel—Joe Williams
Dickie Harpeddle—Herbert Stevens.

Miss Paloga—Pe. Major.

The play is directed by James F. Stubbs. The student director is Jack Gregory.

The high school Theater orchestra under the direction of Ralph Guenther, will play a concert between seven-thirty and eight o'clock.
